EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The instant amendment serves to cancel the non-elected claims and bring the claims into full condition for allowance.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Scott Yarnell on August 17, 2005. Here, it is noted that Applicant has reserved the right to pursue the presently cancelled claims in a divisional application.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the claims:

Claims 46-53, 55-80 and 90-93 have been cancelled.

In claim 32, line 1, the language "claims" has been changed to "claim".

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The step of mixing demineralized water with a settled zeolite fraction to produce a slurried zeolite process stream, said settled zeolite fraction being settled from a mechanically dispersed slurry comprised of demineralized water and a mechanically processed zeolite ore having a mean particle size ranging from about 10 to 40 microns, said slurry having a density of about 5% to 40% and a demineralized water to zeolite ore mass ratio to substantially suspend any clay fraction of said zeolite ore render the invention novel and non-obvious over the prior art. Here, the closest prior art teaches the processing of zeolite ores in a slurry form and the use of chemical dispersants (See e.g., Morris et al., US 4,510, 254 and Shaler, US 3,189,557), thus the use of a mechanical dispersion step when coupled with specific size and density ranges render the invention novel and non-obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
